Past Continuous Tense Write Interrogative Sentences

I wasn't studying?  You weren't playing.  He wasn't sleeping.  She wasn't cooking.  It wasn't raining.  We weren't laughing.  They weren't talking.  The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.  My parents weren't watching TV.		3
You weren't playing.  He wasn't sleeping.  She wasn't cooking.  It wasn't raining.  We weren't laughing.  They weren't talking.  The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.		I wasn't studying.
He wasn't sleeping.  She wasn't cooking.  It wasn't raining.  We weren't laughing.  They weren't talking.  The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.		Was I studying?
She wasn't cooking.  It wasn't raining.  We weren't laughing.  They weren't talking.  The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.	,	You weren't playing.
She wasn't cooking.  It wasn't raining.  We weren't laughing.  They weren't talking.  The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.
It wasn't raining.  We weren't laughing.  They weren't talking.  The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.		He wasn't sleeping.
It wasn't raining.  We weren't laughing.  They weren't talking.  The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.
We weren't laughing.  They weren't talking.  The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.		She wasn't cooking.
We weren't laughing.  They weren't talking.  The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.
They weren't talking.  The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.		It wasn't raining.
They weren't talking.  The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.
The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.		We weren't laughing.
The dog wasn't barking.  The children weren't playing.
The children weren't playing.		They weren't talking.
The children weren't playing.
		The dog wasn't barking.
My parents weren't watching TV.		The children weren't playing.
My parents weren't watching TV.
		My parents weren't watching TV.

educationworksheet.com